Robbery and Murder.

They all appealed and gave the bail required.

Pigeon Shooting Match.

SARATOGA, August 7.—The pigeon shooting tournament for the Lorillard medal was finished here to-day. Brown of Cleveland won with a score of 32 killed and 8 missed. Paine, of New York, got second money, killing 29 and missing 11. Hudson of Syracuse, killed 27 and missed 13. Turrell of Chicago killed 26 and missed 14. Neither Bogardus nor Kleinman would continue shooting, claiming that they had received no notice of the postponement of the shooting from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Referee Miller of New York, consequently allowed them to withdraw, and at the same time declared all pools and bets off. This caused great dissatisfaction, Brown having been sold in the field against Paine, Bogardus and Kleinman as the favorite by almost 10 to 1.

Revenue Officer Killed.

RICHMOND, Va., August 7.—A fight took place yesterday in Scott county between a small force of revenue officers under Colonel E. O. Egbert, U. S. This tea had been submerged several months, and soaked with salt water. It is mixed with other tea, and then put upon the market. The Superintendent adds: That the endeavor of owners to prepare the tea for market I consider a most barefaced swindle, and I respectfully recommend that the matter be referred to the proper authorities, in order to have the fraud prevented.

Agents in this city of the line to which belongs the steamship Alabama, which has been reported probably wrecked off the Irish coast, say she did not leave Lorne, Ireland, till Sunday instead of Saturday as stated in the dispatch, and she could not possibly have been in the neighborhood where the stuff has been found.

The steamer Arndt from Settin and Havre, is now 10 days overdue at this port. Since then nothing has been heard of her.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Critical Condition of Vice President Wilson.

CHICAGO, August 8.—The Tribune's Washington special says it is manifest that the officially published denials regarding the health of Vice President Wilson, are of a diplomatic character. There is the best authority for the statement that his physicians contemplate the application of a seton on the base of the brain, as the only possible cure for his disorder, and it is also certain that his most intimate friends have the gravest fears for the result. It is stated that this application has been delayed in order to permit Mr. Wilson to regain his general health. He may endure this radical treatment with safety.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.—The trial of eight Chinamen for conspiracy was commenced before a jury in the Police Court this afternoon. The prisoners are members of the Hip Yee Tong Society, and are accused of conspiring with a purpose of extorting $350 from another Chinaman as the price of his wife, a girl who escaped from a brothel to Dr. Gibson's Chinese Mission School. A great crowd of Chinamen assembled in and about the court room, manifesting great interest in the proceedings. Several of the prisoners belong to the supposed better class of Chinese, and one, Ah You, is inspector of the See Yup Company, and formerly a wealthy Chinese merchant at Weaverville, Trinity county. R. H. Lloyd and Jas. McC appeared for defendants. The testimony of the Chinese complainant, the husband of the escaped girl, is positive that he was summoned before the tribunal of the Hip Yee Tong, where all the defendants were present, and that he was ordered under penalty of death to pay $350 to the people from whom his wife escaped. The trial is still pending. Two men called as jurors declared they did not think they could give Chinamen as fair a trial as a white man. They were excused. Yet Sung testified that he was brought before the secret tribunal of Hip Yee Tong; that the prisoners were all there, and that he was ordered on penalty of death to pay the parties from whom his wife escaped $350 as the price she was worth in the market for Chinese prostitutes. This man still fears the vengeance of Hip Yee Tong, and will not go out of the Mission House alone. He says he fears that the same society failing to harm him here will, unless he pays their demand, wreak vengeance on his relatives in China. He testified that when brought before the tribunal about thirty men were present, while one stood at the door with a pistol drawn to prevent intrusion. Ah You told him he must pay or return the woman, or they would kill him; that they would spend $10,000 to destroy his life, and that he must pay before he left or they would kill him. Fourteen men arose and seconded all Ah You had said, saying "It's good." He pleaded that he had no money. They finally agreed to give him two days to raise the money, but said he must return the woman to [illegible] they would kill him. They then released him. At the end of two days two men from the society called on him for the money, which he could not pay. He then fled to the Mission.

Dr. Loomis was called to translate a large number of documents found in the [illegible] Rooms tribunal. The court told him he must translate all or he would be punished for contempt, and gave him till Monday to consider the matter. Mr. Loomis is to aid him in the translation. All records have on the back the words: "Trust [illegible] hands of Justice." The case has been continued till Monday.

Much dissatisfaction was expressed amongst prominent Democrats regarding the management of the Committee. It is openly asserted that it has been bought by Carr. The proprietors of the Examiner denounce its course, and say if statements about Carr are true, a ticket from that source cannot have their support. The Democratic Convention met here to-night, like all the rest, behind closed doors. There were several ballots for Treasurer, on the last of which Mr. Hubert received within two votes of nomination, and then the Convention adjourned to next Wednesday night. Taxpayers' Convention in secret session again to-night.

Fire in Victoria.

VICTORIA, August 8.—About 1 o'clock Thursday morning the moulding shop of the Albion Foundry was partially destroyed by fire, but was fully insured in the Imperial. At nearly the same hour this morning the storehouse of the Norris tannery on James Bay was discovered to be on fire, and before the Fire Department could reach the spot it was totally consumed. Loss $1,100. Insured in the Phenix for $800. It is supposed to have been the work of incendiaries.

THE PORTLAND FIRE AND THE ANTI-CHINESE MOVEMENT.

KALAMA, W. T., Aug. 8, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Rumor ascribes the great fire of the 2d inst. to anti-Chinese incendiaries. The letters signed by "25 strong men"—one of which Bishop Morris received a week or two before the fire occurred, and which he suppressed, is unworthy of notice until after the 2d—show that the incendiaries mean business. They are not content to stop with one fire consuming only one-tenth of the city. They intend to use the abundant material which flanks our [illegible] business streets. They may invade the houses of the people and put life in peril! It is well to look this madness [illegible] calmly and firmly. The argument of fire belongs to the sixteenth century. It never [illegible] a man's opinions or wins a victory for its champions. It creates a fire that burns more terribly and effectually, as in the case of the San Francisco Vigilance Committee [illegible] and the late anti-negro war. If men's business is to be turned to defend their property and their homes, they will make short work of it. The energy and the watchfulness that upon trade will be applied with fiscal powers to detect and punish the criminals. No man or organization can stand before a people aroused in such a cause.

The protective unions and alliances which make hostility to the Chinese a main article of their creed, and under whose wing these incendiaries seem to hover, should pronounce against this incendiary work. The politicians who fondle both will need to look well to their laurels. A man's future in Portland or that region will not be worth much for getting work, or trade, or votes, if he is found with the least shadow of this [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] his own [illegible] or his deeds. Portland will rise from its ashes if it is all burned up, [illegible] [illegible] will not.

RAILROAD POSTAL SERVICE.

A Washington dispatch of August 8th says:

The postal authorities state that the railroads in the quarrel with the Government have much reason to object to the conditions of the contracts requiring them to supply the messenger service from the railway station to every postoffice within eighty rods of the depot. This has become a very onerous duty, especially on lines where the stations are very close together. Besides it places the mails [illegible] a certain portion in the hands of [illegible] persons. The expense is very great, and the railroad officers state that the annoyance and local difficulties which result are very much greater than the expense. On some lines one-half of the compensation received from the Government goes to the messengers. It is understood that the Senate Select Committee on [illegible] transportation have under consideration the propriety of relieving the railroad companies from this condition of their contracts, and requiring Postmasters to attend to this delivery [illegible] [illegible]. Some of the postal authorities [illegible] in all this change. One could [illegible] [illegible] that the Government [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] trains upon which the mails [illegible] [illegible] that the postal authorities [illegible] have the right to place postal [illegible] [illegible] fastest express trains. The President of the Boston and Albany [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Department that he will be willing to carry the mails for $500 per mile less [illegible] relieved of the [illegible] [illegible] responsibility [illegible].

One of Secretary Richardson's objections to Civil Service examinations is that they unfit for being, to fill the Department with Maryland residents [illegible] [illegible] the Government and could attend examinations with the least expense. Mr. Creswell is responsible for this, for in his desire to be Senator from Maryland he has so crammed the Post Office Department that fifty per cent of the employees are from his own State.

A colony of three hundred immigrants arrived in New York from Russia last week. There is another larger and more powerful colony numbering from fifteen to twenty thousand persons now making preparations to immigrate to this country. The first party of the new colony will reach here early in October. They include many wealthy families, and will, it is said, bring with them from $14,000,000 to $15,000,000 in gold. Their agents have selected lands in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Dakota Territory for their location.

In Louisville (Ky.) on the 3d inst., Mrs. West shot her husband on a street car, inflicting a severe wound. The parties came to that city a few days ago from St. Louis and secured rooms at the hotel on Friday. The wife secretly left town and started for St. Louis, but was arrested by telegraph and brought back. While going home together in the street car the woman suddenly drew a pistol, placed it directly against her husband's side and fired, when the other passengers interfered and she was disarmed. The husband asserts that his wife is subject to attacks of emotional insanity, and went her bail.

A pack of wild blood hounds haunt the woods of New Jersey, and parties who go berrying load themselves with shotguns and corn cutters.

The Cortes has under consideration, and seems to view favorably, the scheme for dividing Spain into forty-nine cantons. It is not improbable that the new Federal Constitution will be amended to that effect.

A Baltimore clergyman writes to a friend concerning the frequency of fires in Boston as follows: "In the rapid whirl of events, the motion of the universe becoming accelerated, the hub is evidently over heated by friction. Hence the numerous conflagrations."

An Indianapolis man who has a passion for new hats was persuaded by a dealer the other day into buying five high priced articles of head wear, one after the other. They were sent to his house in separate boxes, and a few days after he found that his wife had traded off every one of them for Bohemian ware.

The Salt Lake Tribune (anti-Mormon) says: We know that the great bulk of this extraordinary community are as honest and industrious a people as are to be found in the world, and will one day, by proper education and treatment, rid themselves of the objectionable religious features, take on a new phase, and become citizens of the United States in spirit and in truth.

"Now, Johnny," said a venerable lady to her six year old nephew, who was persistently denying an offence of which she accused him, "I know you are not telling the truth; I see it in your eye." Putting down the lower lid of the organ that had so nearly betrayed his want of veracity, Johnny exultingly replied: "You can't tell anything about it, aunt; that eye always was a little streaked!"

Complaints are made all over Kentucky that the farming lands of the State are declining in value. In many places the decline has been thirty or forty per cent since the war. The Louisville Courier-Journal says: "There is a remedy for all this. It is to develope the State. We need more men and new men. We want men free from the ties of old prejudices and unstained by the slough of worn-out ruts—men who mean work and want to work. Perhaps a change in politics might be effectual in bringing these new men."

A wise man in the East—the Springfield Mass.—says that if you wish to determine whether your watch keeps good time or not you select any given star from the corner of a window sash or through any small hole, and note the precise instant at which the star disappears behind a chimney or other stationary object within a short distance. If from the same stand-point the same star disappears earlier by three minutes and fifty seconds the next night and by seven minutes and fifty-two seconds the third night, the watch is right to a half of a second.

A Washington dispatch of August 4th furnishes additional information concerning the enormous debt of the District of Columbia. It says:

The Congregational free reading room tent at Tacoma serves its purpose well. It caught fire a few days ago from sparks, and several holes were burned in it, but it is again repaired and in better shape than before. It is numerously patronized.

Parties from Chicago and California are at present negotiating for the purchase of the Samson mine, situated in the Yosemite belt, Rattlesnake gulch, 14 miles southwest of Bingham. This mine is owned by Messrs. Murphey, Hughes and Walden, and shows 15 inches pure galena.

Eastern tourists are wending their way to the National Park in the Yellowstone region of Montana. They are mostly bald headed men and tough women—the former fearless of the scalping knife, and the latter impervious to arrows. They have determined to explore as long as their Boston crackers and cheese hold out.

The Olympia Courier says: A party of Italian fishermen have occupied a sand spit near Gig Harbor for some time past, and have carried on quite a trade up and down the Sound in the product of their nets. Last week a boy fell overboard from a boat and his father went to his relief, and both were drowned. We were unable to learn their names.

The County Commissioners of Pierce county, W. T., offer a reward of $200 for the apprehension and delivery of Gus Little, accused of murder, who was last seen in Steilacoom on Monday evening, August 4th. His age is about 24 years; height, about 5 feet and 6 inches; light complexion; short, light-brown hair; light moustache; blue eyes, and somewhat round shouldered. When last seen he wore a dark blue coat, cut short; dove-colored pants; straw hat and high heeled boots, which were worn down on the inside.

The Port Townsend Argus reports that the pirates Shepley and Brown, who filled the whole lower Sound country with terror, were seen last week. A man who gets a livelihood by picking up saw logs along the shore of the Sound was rowing along the shore of Whidby's Island, just abreast of Marrowstone Point, when he observed a whitehall boat coming towards him with two men in it. He recognized the men as Shepley and Brown (he had shot Brown while making his escape from Tulalip last fall), and surmising that they were after him he took to the brush. Some Indians who were camped at Lagoon Spit, on Whidby Island, also recognized these men as the ones mentioned, and came down among the settlers to get away from them. The white man (whose name we have not ascertained) was chased a second time, and while escaping from his boat to the brush, Brown made an unsuccessful attempt to cut off his retreat. That paper thinks a reward should be offered sufficiently large to warrant an organized effort to secure their capture, dead or alive. If it be true that they have again made their appearance, no doubt this will be done.

On Monday the 3d inst., R. Griffiths, in the employ of Mr. J. Chadsey, Sumas, was drowned in a slough while attempting to cross on horseback.

Constable Stewart and assistants captured the Nanoose Bay murderers and lodged them in jail at Nanaimo. They were Indians, as were their victims.

Population is represented as pouring into Manitoba. Latest advices state that a deputation representing fifty families, proposing to emigrate from Ontario next spring, were looking for a location.

A number of sailors from H. M. ships, between midnight and 5 o'clock on the 1st inst., stole a large canoe belonging to Judge Crease, which was hauled upon the davits below Mr. Leigh's house, James Bay, and put off for parts unknown.

Rear Admiral the Hon. Arthur Cochrane, the second son of the late Admiral the Earl of Dundonald, left England on the 17th of July via Panama to take command of the fleet at Victoria, and is expected to arrive about the middle of next month.

The dredger has cut a channel entirely through Shoal Point, Victoria harbor, 200 feet in width, and vessels drawing 11 feet may now sail into the harbor and through the cut without experiencing the slightest difficulty. In a few days the beacon, having become unnecessary, will be removed.

Mr. J. A. Booth, who is now on French Creek, in the Big Bend country, writes under date July 2d that he has obtained very rich prospects in the hills in that vicinity, and wants his brother Sam Booth to come right away up and share his good luck. The diggings, he says, will pay from $10 upwards.

The plans for the three proposed beacons on Gold[illegible] Reef, Walker Rock (Trincomalee Channel), and Lewis Reef (Chain Islands) will be very substantial affairs. The beacon for [illegible] Reef will be 30 feet 6 inches long, with a [illegible] cage on top 17 feet above high water mark. Walker Rock beacon will stand 12 feet above high water. The Lewis Rock beacon will be an iron shaft and cage 10 feet high, surmounting a stone beacon also 10 feet high—the whole standing 20 feet above the rock.

A HORSE TRAINER INJURED.—Henry Ralston, a horse trainer, was severely and probably fatally bitten by a vicious horse at the Indiana State Fair Grounds in Indianapolis one day last week. He was going through the stables and stopped by a stall in which a hostler was cleaning a horse, having turned his head to wait the door. Ralston quickly threw up his hand preparatory to leaning against the wall, and the horse, taking the motion for a menace, suddenly leaped forward, striking and biting him at the same time on the head. One of his ears was torn completely off, and his head was jammed against the boards with great violence. As soon as the horse was driven away Mr. Ralston turned and said, "I [illegible]." [illegible] the horse, for he has killed me. [illegible] which he walked [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] from the spot and lay down on the [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible]. A physician was summoned, who stated [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] had received a severe concussion of the brain, and that in all probability his skull had been fractured, though no critical examination was made. He lapsed into a state of insensibility, and at last accounts he was in a very critical condition.

OREGON

The Democratic County Committee of Clackamas will meet in Oregon City on the 12th.

Prof. Fowler delivered five lectures in Albany and manipulated a large number of heads.

The latest in Hillsboro: "How is your school assessments?" The Board meets to-day to equalize.

The Methodists of Yamhill county are agitating the question of erecting an institution of learning at Sheridan.

Our Hillsboro correspondent says wheat in Washington county is averaging from 40 to 50 bushels to the acre in most instances.

T. J. McCarver has resigned the office of County Treasurer of Clackamas and G. F. Beattie has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

We learn that a challenge has been sent to B. I. Underwood to meet Rev. T. F. Campbell of Monmouth at Eugene in public debate.

The assessed value of property within the city limits of Salem amounts to $1,203,250. The tax for city purposes for the present year is $7,219 50.

Wm Gird, of Linn county, has sold his fine black racer to George Hughes for the sum of $500. The horse is now in training for our approaching County Fair.

The Commissioners' Court for Washington county, has authorized H. Jackson to purchase a fire and burglar proof safe for the use of the County Treasurer.

Mr. Warren Fish, who resides on the Molalla, about fifteen miles from Oregon City, was thrown from a horse last Saturday and severely though not dangerously injured.

The man who won the lawsuit about the town site of Lafayette, is said to have come out $1,000 behind, as it cost that much more than the land in dispute is worth.

James Crook of Oregon City, took a pair of pants from Mr. Tull last week, and six and a half dollars in coin, for which he is now serving thirty days in the county jail.

The Albany Democrat says: "The rain is bringing the people out of the mountains in in large quantities, and a dirtier and more forlorn looking set of mortals can rarely be found."

The States Rights Democrat, Albany, the editor of which, his name is Mart Brown, has just completed its eighth volume. A very good newspaper, the Democrat is, too, but the politics of the editor is not so good.

The first load of wheat stored in Linn county this season was taken to the Farmers' warehouse, in Albany, on the first day of August, by Judge Baber, who resides near Tangent. He has since delivered at the same place about 600 bushels.

Two burglarious looking individuals were arrested for breaking into an empty house at Eugene City the other night, and held to answer in the sum of $300. One of them afterwards broke jail but was recaptured by the Sheriff after a chase of about 20 miles.

Mr. Newby announced from the cars at Hillsboro last Friday that "a side track would be put in at the most convenient point at Hillsboro, and that he would commence the erection of a warehouse within ten days, and to tell all the farmers that he would buy grain at Hillsboro."

One day last week, in unloading some stone for the foundation of the new warehouse of Westlake & Howell, at Albany, Wm. Westlake had his right hand caught between two large rocks and crushed all out of shape, breaking the ring finger and mutilating the whole hand in a horrible manner.

John Russell, the convict who escaped from the State Penitentiary a few days ago, has been captured and returned to the prison, where he now is and where he will have ample time to mourn over departed hopes. He was recaptured in Yamhill county near his old home, and was returned by one of his own relatives.

The Plaindealer, in speaking of a good investment, says Bruint Thornton, of Douglas county, in 1865 bought for $2 50 one ewe; he has now 20 sheep; the wool has realized him $30, and of this money he has bought one heifer; the heifer produced him five calves; of this increase he has sold $35 worth, and has three head of cattle left in addition to twenty head of sheep.

The Salt Lake Tribune, which ought to know something about women, says: "The women of Oregon have signified their intention of taking a hand in the election for member of Congress to fill vacancy, on the 13th of October. When an Oregon woman puts her foot down it is there spread all about, and when her ballot slides into the box she means business. Go it Webfeet."

Judge Garretson of Iowa, Special Deputy of the National Grange, reached Albany last Monday evening. On his way he organized the State Grange of California, and he is now among us to do a like work for Oregon, but for the present will gladly assist in organizing subordinate granges when desired to do so by his brother farmers. The Masters of all the granges in this county are requested to meet him at 1 o'clock P. M., on Tuesday, the 12th inst., in room No. 9 of the St. Charles Hotel in Albany, to confer on the practicability of organizing a county Grange Association for Linn county, at which time he will instruct also in the unwritten or secret work of his order.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY

While at Eugene attending the meeting of the State Central Committee, we took occasion, in company with a number of other gentlemen, to visit the State University building, now in course of construction By the courtesy of Hon W W Bristow and the architect in charge of the work, we were conducted through the entire building so far as it has progressed and shown also the plans and elevations of the structure It is 113 feet in length, including a projection of eleven feet at either end to be used for vestibule and stairway purposes. The width of the building is 55 feet 6 inches, and it will be three stories in hight above the basement and including the Mansard The basement is 11 feet 3 inches between joists, and is designed for furnaces for warming the rooms above, and for store-rooms. It is high and airy enough for class rooms, should it become necessary to have such partitioned off.

The first story above the basement, which is to be reached from the lawn by a broad flight of steps at either end of the building, is 16 feet between joists, and is divided into six rooms, four good ones on one side and two large ones on the other There are five class rooms. The next story is to be divided into three rooms, one being the full width of the interior of the building by half its length, making about 52 by 42 feet. The two rooms will be about 42 by 26 each.

Then above this story comes the Mansard, which is to be 18 feet in the clear, and is to be finished all in one great hall

The building will be a very symmetrical and handsome structure, as shown by the elevations. The first story above the basement is now up, and the work thus far is doing in the most substantial manner. The foundation is down to the solid bed rock so that it is impossible for it to settle.

The close times in money matters have retarded the raising of the moneys contemplated by the act locating the State University at Eugene, so that it may be necessary to ask for an extension of time in which to complete the required work. The vigor and energy with which the work has been pushed thus far, is a pledge that the conditions of the law will be fully complied with, and it would be but reasonable to show as much leniency toward those who are engaged in this enterprise, as is consistent with the public interests. Of course, this single building will not always supply the wants of the State, but it will answer well for a long time, and will never be out of date, or unfit for use

VACCINATION FOR SMALLPOX

Dr W Gayton, Medical Superintendent of the Hamerton (England) Smallpox Hospital, in a small work recently issued entitled "Notes on Smallpox and its Treatment," gives the following statistical information in regard to the effect of vaccination as a preventive of smallpox, based upon his own experience.

"It is clearly seen that those who are not vaccinated died at the rate of more than 37 per cent, those with one vaccination at above 12 per cent, with two cicatrices at about 8½ per cent; with three cicatrices at a little over 7 per cent, with four cicatrices at 3½ per cent, whereas with five or more cicatrices the mortality is reduced to 2½ per cent"

These facts prove the efficiency of vaccination, if they are to be relied upon, and they are cited as authority by the American Journal of Medical Sciences There is no doubt that there is considerable smallpox in this city at present and it would be only the exercise of ordinary prudence to vaccinate This preventive is equally efficient, if applied after the patient has been exposed to smallpox and before the disease has developed itself

THOSE ANONYMOUS WARNINGS

On Thursday night last an anonymous note was placed under the door of a residence on the west side of Seventh street, between Alder and Washington occupied by Mrs Allen, a lady who keeps several boarders and employs one or two Chinese domestics Following is an exact copy of the note

Mrs Allen this is to warn you not to hire any more chinamen remember, saturday
1 of the 28

The anonymous letter is a very legible scrawl, on a half sheet of heavy writing paper, and is addressed on the back "Mrs Allen"

This, we understand is not the first communication of the kind Threats of vengeance have been uttered against others who employ Chinese labor In fact, there seems to be some grounds for the belief that there is in Portland an organized band of assassins and incendiaries, who are circulating warnings like that given above, in order, as it appears to intimidate those who may find it convenient to use Chinese service There is apparently, a positive danger In the note which we have quoted allusion is made to the terrible conflagration of last Saturday Our citizens are threatened with similar woe if they do not heed these mysterious warnings Nor is this all of the danger We know that the scoundrel who will fire a dwelling will do murder The incendiary is near kin to the assassin The law makes him so It would be well for our citizens to take heed to act wisely and adopt precautions immediately against the execution of these vengeful threats Let us if necessary, organize for mutual protection, raise funds for the detection and apprehension of the authors of these letters We want to ascertain whether or not it is as we suspect that the writers of these threatening letters are the incendiaries who fired the city a week ago We call upon the police to exercise extraordinary vigilance and on all good citizens to aid in the capture and punishment of the Ku Klux of Portland We are not alarmists nor do we mean to arouse needless apprehensions But we are satisfied that there is peril It is the part of wisdom to guard against it We must crush out this lawless band If they are caught (and we are assured they will be) we predict for them a short shrift

Everybody remembers that reformatory convention of railway officials who had seen the exceeding sinfulness of the free pass system, which met at St Louis on the 24th ult, and virtuously resolved to do away with the most ancient instrument of railway corruption Well the Chicago Inter Ocean tells us how shrewdly some of the parties to the contract evade the agreement. The Illinois Central is the first transgressor, as it was first to suggest the reform We are told that some time since a deputy bailiff in an Illinois court rendered valuable service to this company A few days ago he had occasion to go to Southern Illinois He applied to the attorney of the company for a pass The attorney wrote the President and the latter replied that he could not, in the face of the resolution adopted by the convention, conscientiously issue the pass Thereupon the attorney indignantly remarked that he would have nothing to do with a company that wouldn't honor his requests for passes Of course the President yielded The second offender is the Chicago and Alton This company has had a custom of giving passes to all stock men shipping more than two car loads of stock. Now-a-days they give out blank passes and the stock men fill them out with such names as they may choose

The genius who does the sensational display heads of the New York Herald builds some of the most remarkable word-structures in English (or any other) literature In a late issue he tells us about "A Simmering Sabbath, wherein a city clergyman discoursed "Melting Ministrations," and ponderous essays on "Scientists trying to Shove God out of His own World and to Replace Him by the Cold Clanking of a Machine"

BECAUSE:

FIRST—IT HAS COMPLIED FULLY WITH THE Oregon State Law

SECOND—Its contracts in Oregon are backed up under a reinsurance contract by its own and the unlimited assets of the Home Ins Co of New York and the North British and Mercantile Ins Company of London aggregating over $23,000,000 00, and thus offering the best security of any Fire Insurance Company on Association in the world

THIRD—It can carry large risks as its policies are reinsured by the above mentioned Companies so that the PHŒNIX alone can carry the same line that all three companies would take separately

FOURTH—It requires but one set of proofs in case of loss thus giving the security of three Companies with but the trouble of dealing with separate Corporations

On these solid merits, viz Capacity to carry the largest risks the amplest possible security the simplest adjustment in case of loss and the prompt and equitable payment of all just claims

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 9, 1873

CITY.

ANNUAL SUPPLIES.—The lighthouse tender Shubrick, now lying in the river here, will probably go down the river on Sunday. The Shubrick is delivering the annual supplies at the various lighthouses along the coast. She sailed from San Francisco several weeks ago with the usual oil, etc., for the various points along the coast. On account of the rough and dangerous character of the coast the steamer did not deem it prudent to touch at Cape Disappointment and accordingly continued her course on to Astoria. After arriving there it was determined to come on to Portland. As the steamer could not land at Cape Disappointment it was thought best to land the supplies which were intended for that lighthouse at this city and then ship them overland to their destination. Under the circumstances no other course could be adopted. These supplies have been landed here and will be forwarded overland at once. In a few days the Shubrick will go down the river. She will soon after sail for the northern portion of the coast to supply the other lighthouses.

REPORT AT ONCE.—It is to be hoped that there will be no false delicacy or false pride manifested in the matter of reporting cases of want or destitution to the Relief Committee. The Committee are vested with discretionary powers and have ample means in their possession to relieve all who may apply or be reported. Let there be no holding back. Let every man or woman resolve himself or herself into a reporting committee. Every case where aid is required should be promptly reported so that the Committee can give assistance immediately.

FROM HONOLULU.—The bark Jane A. Falkinburg arrived here last evening in tow of the steamer Mary Bell from Astoria. The bark came direct from Sandwich Island with a full cargo of sugar and molasses. The Falkinburg sailed from this place over a month since for San Francisco with a load of lumber. From the latter port she sailed for Honolulu where she arrived on the eleventh day. A very quick passage was made from Honolulu to Portland.

APPOINTED.—Mr George H. Atkinson, son of Rev Mr Atkinson, has recently been appointed one of the surgeons at the Long Island Medical Hospital, New York. Mr Atkinson lately graduated at one of the medical institutions of that State. He is an Oregon boy, and our State has cause to feel proud of the distinction thus shown one of her sons.

TO ATTEND.—Major Robert will go down the river in a few days, to attend a meeting of the Board of Engineers, which is to be held at Astoria on Monday. The Board will be composed of Major Robert, Capt Spotts and others. The object of the meeting is to take into consideration a number of lighthouse appointments which are to be made.

NOTICE.—Moses Hurd furnishes vegetables for Portland, and some days he does not sell all of them. He wishes some person to furnish a place of deposit for this surplus, where the poor may come and get the same. He recommends that other dealers deposit at the place which may be selected by him.

CONTRIBUTIONS.—The collections in the city for the relief of sufferers, as reported at the first meeting of the General Executive Committee, was $8,412 50, and the sum of $4,746 50 was reported at the meeting last evening, making a grand total of $13,159 so far collected from our citizens in aid of the sufferers.

A CARD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In regard to that question of veracity between Mr Stevens and myself in yesterday's OREGONIAN, I have only to say that I have no changes to make in my first statement. I requested Mr Stevens to charge the ferriage to the city, and he replied "D—n the city." I then told him to charge it to the Chief Engineer, and he answered "D—n the Chief Engineer," and told me to go to the other ferry in crossing back to the city, as I could not recross the river by that ferry without paying for the same, and I did as he directed.

C. W. REYNARD.

Portland, August 9, 1873.

RELIEF COMMITTEE.

An adjourned meeting of the Relief Committee was held last evening at the office of Ladd & Tilton. A majority of the Committee was present.

The meeting was called to order by W. S. Ladd, Chairman.

The Chairman stated that the Committee were ready to hear from the sub-committees appointed to canvass for aid in the various wards.

Mr I. White of the First Ward reported that since the last meeting of the Committee a considerable sum had been raised in that ward. By request he read the following names and the amount contributed by each:

Mr White stated that Messrs. Spaulding and Johnson had subscribed 1,000 pounds of beef for the use of the sufferers.

Mr Ladd stated that Messrs. Jeffrey & Bean had informed him that they had two vacant houses which were tendered to any one who was rendered houseless. Any family were welcome to the use of the houses free of rent for one or two months.

Rev T L Eliot stated that Mrs William Collins, of East Portland, had two houses which she had generously tendered to sufferers free of rent.

Mr White requested the press to give notice that the Committee in the First Ward would call on those who had not contributed anything yet towards the relief of the sufferers. A number of persons who he felt certain would willingly subscribe, were absent when the Committee called, or absent from the city. Contributions from any who had not yet given anything would be thankfully received by the Committee. He felt certain that at least $1,000 could easily be raised in that portion of the city.

Mr S. Hirsch reported the following additional contributions from the Second Ward:

Mr Failing stated that H W Corbett had subscribed through his agent, T Robertson, the sum of $500.

W S Ladd said that S G Reed had telegraphed him from the Dalles to subscribe for him the sum of $500, which should be placed to the credit of the Third Ward.

Mr Ladd reported the following additional contributions: Jas Fields, $25; St Mary's Academy, $50; Wm Strong, 20; Rev Geo H Atkinson, $10.

Capt. J Friedman, formerly of this city, but now of San Francisco, sent to the Mayor a telegraphic transfer of $100.

The Visiting and District Committees stated to the meeting that they had not progressed far enough with the duties assigned them to submit a report. At the next meeting of the Committee they would be prepared to submit a report.

The Disbursing Committee submitted their report. Since commencing on Thursday morning 44 checks had been drawn on the Treasury of the Committee, a number of cases had been reported, and already the sum of $3,535 00 had been disbursed. The sums disbursed ranged from $20 to $250. The above sums was applied to procuring supplies to families, for the purchase of tools and also to the meeting of immediate wants. Small sums had been given in many instances to persons who had been reported to give immediate relief. Such persons would no doubt be compelled to apply to the Committee for further aid. Twenty cases had already been reported to the Committee which had not been attended to. These cases would be attended to at once.

The following dispatch, which was received on Thursday by Mayor Failing, was read:

SAN FRANCISCO, August 7, 1873.

Hon H Failing, Mayor:—Your draft on us for $7,000, subscribed by citizens for the relief of sufferers by your late fire, will be duly honored on presentation. RICHARD PATRICK & CO.

In response to the above, Mayor Failing immediately telegraphed as follows:

PORTLAND, August 7, 1873.

Richard Patrick & Co, San Francisco:—Your telegram announcing the munificent donation of your citizens for the benefit of sufferers by fire just received.

Please assure each and all of the donors of our gratitude for this substantial evidence of their sympathy. HENRY FAILING, Mayor.

The papers were authorized to state that grocers, to whom application had been made by sufferers for credit since the fire, were requested to report such cases to the Disbursing Committee at once, so that the required attention could be given.

The Chairman stated that Mr J Brenner, a young musician of the city, had called at his office and offered to give a concert in conjunction with a number of other musicians of the city, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the relief of the sufferers.

On motion of Mr Wasserman, the Committee accepted the offer thankfully in behalf of the sufferers.

A Committee was appointed to cooperate with Mr Brenner and any others who might engage in getting up and making arrangements for a concert, or other entertainment. The Committee consisted of Messrs C W Parrish, F Franks and H H Carpenter.

The Chair stated that he was in receipt of a letter from Dr G W Murray to the effect that he (Murray) had several unoccupied buildings, the free use of which he tendered to any of the sufferers.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

Rev Mr Eliot, having been detained in the city by duties which have prevented his proposed absence, there will be services in this church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to citizens and strangers.

There will be religious services in the Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran Church of East Portland next Sunday, August 10th, in the Norwegian language at 10 o'clock A M, and in the English at 2 o'clock P M as usual. The Rev A E Fridrichsen, D D, will officiate.

Divine service will be held to-morrow evening at half past 7 o'clock in the Mission Chapel situated at the southern terminus of the street railway. As the street cars are again running, this will be a pleasant way of spending a profitable hour in the worship of God and of assisting in the propagation of the Gospel in that part of our city. Seats free.

The pastor of the Baptist Church, Rev A R Medbury, having returned from an absence of several weeks at the Sound, services will be held to-morrow at the church, corner of Alder and Fourth streets, at the usual hours, morning and evening. A collection will be taken in the evening for the sufferers by the late fire. Subject of the evening sermon: "The blessing that cannot be burned."

THE COURTS.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, J.

FRIDAY, August 8, 1873.

Ordered that the Treasurer be directed to pay over to the widow of H. Rayerstein the sum of $25—the amount delivered to said Treasurer by F J Dever, Coroner of Multnomah county, on inquest of H. Rayerstein.

Ordered that the annual report of the Sheriff and Tax Collector be accepted and spread on the Journal of this Court.

OREGON CITY WOOLEN MILLS.

About half the machinery belonging to the woolen mills at Oregon City has been put up and is at present in operation both day and night. An experienced machinist is engaged in putting up the machinery as rapidly as possible. Within a month all the extensive machinery will be running to the extent of its capacity day and night. No expense has been spared by the company to purchase the best machinery which could be obtained East. The new machinery is all of the latest pattern, and is capable of turning off very fine and superior fabrics. The intention is to crowd work through with all possible dispatch so as to make up for the long delay occasioned by the destruction of the mills and also to meet the present demand for woolen fabrics. By the first of September all the machinery will be in full operation, and immense quantities of all kinds will be turned off. The following facts connected with the history of these woolen mills may be of interest to readers.

The Oregon City Manufacturing Company was organized in April, 1864, with a capital stock of $80,000, and began operations in July, 1865, with three sets of machinery. Finding the capital stock insufficient, it was increased in October, 1866, to $100,000. Not having sufficient machinery to supply the demand, additions were made to it in October, 1866. Three more sets of machinery were in successful operation until April, 1871, when the demand for woolen fabrics was so augmented that the company were compelled to add one more set, making in all seven sets. In the fall of 1869 Oregon City Woolen Mills received the medal at the Mechanics' Fair held in San Francisco, and again in 1871, for manufacturing the best fabrics on the Pacific Coast. This awarding of medals in the face of California manufacturers was the highest testimonial of the superiority of fabrics turned out from these mills, and gave them a high commercial standing in the market.

At this time the Company resolved to add another branch of manufacture in connection with their mills by commencing to make all kinds of clothing from their own fabrics, which was done at once. To meet the increased facilities and great demand, one more set of machinery was added, making eight in all. The Company were never in a more prosperous condition and were commencing to operate on a larger and more comprehensive scale, when suddenly the disastrous fire of the 23d of November came, and the enterprise which had taken years of hard toil to inaugurate and establish on a firm and remunerative basis was swept away in a few hours.

The total loss sustained by the fire was estimated at $190,000. The insurance amounted to $77,500. Everything was destroyed except the foundations and a portion of the walls which were left standing. The loss was felt throughout the entire State. It fell with peculiar weight on the company, and especially on the operatives, who were summarily thrown out of employment and deprived of the means of obtaining a livelihood. But this company, known for their energy and enterprise in past years, did not cease all efforts. Although staggering under the paralyzing stroke, they resolved to rebuild again. Acting from this determination, operations were commenced at once. Within sixty days from the time of the fire Mr B Jacobs, President of the company, was authorized to start East for the purpose of obtaining new machinery of the latest and most approved pattern. The contract for the rebuilding of the mill was let, and Mr Jacobs started East in January, 1873. On his arrival in New York he visited all the largest mills in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Pennsylvania, making close observations of the latest machinery and obtaining the judgment of the most experienced men as to the selection of the best machinery. After thoroughly posting himself, Mr Jacobs ordered of Davis & Furber, North Andover, six sets of the latest improved carding and spinning machines, and of George Crompton, Worcester, the latest style of looms, and forwarded them by rail to their destination. Meantime the new building was almost completed by the time the first installment of machinery arrived, and was ready for its reception, so that no delay was occasioned. All this was accomplished within six months, and sufficient machinery was set up to enable the company to resume operations in July, 1873. The fabrics which the company propose to turn out in a few weeks will be superior to any former work done by the mills, and unsurpassed by any other woolen mill on the Pacific coast. Employment is now given to 54 persons. More will be added as the work progresses.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Koshland Bros. now at No. 8 Front street, as per ad.

Chas Barrett has maps of the city showing the fire district.

Observe the advertisement of the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company, for which Mr Geo F Grant is manager in this State. The Company's record stands very high and is therefore recommended to those desirous of insuring. Consult Mr Grant.

Richardson will dispose of the old distillery property lying just south of the Boat Yard at public auction this morning. The property is among the most desirable and valuable in the city. Persons who are waiting for choice bargains should not fail to attend the sale.

Mr Geo L Hibbard has a full line of groceries and provisions, grain, hay and feed, which he offers at liberal rates. He has the hand made boots and shoes from the manufactory of C A Hibbard & Co, excellent goods, and can find room for storage. See ad.

The Oregon City Woolen Mills having been placed in running order, the Company is now making woolen goods, consisting of blankets, cloths, yarns and underware, which are being brought to the agency at Jacobs Bros & Co, 51 Front street. They are fully prepared to supply the trade. See announcement.

The Tilton & McFarland safe, which has won a world-wide reputation, can be had of the agents in this city, Messrs Goldsmith & Loewenberg. The safe is so well known that we need not speak of its merits. You will receive full instructions in regard to them through the above house. Call and make a selection.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement of Macneale & Urban's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes, which are in use at the office of Wells Fargo & Co, who should know what is best in that line. For a full explanation of its merits we refer our merchants to Mr Dudley Evans, agent of Wells Fargo & Co. in this city, and who will be pleased to receive orders for the safe above referred to. Now is the time to make a purchase.

PERSONAL.

Mr Sam Lowenstein has so far recovered as to be able to be out to-day.

FINALLY DECIDED.

It is an old but true saying that a man is known by the books he reads and the company he keeps. This saying is illustrative of the great sewing machine war in which nearly all the second class machines have played prominent parts, expending much ammunition and making forced marches attended with great loss. But our readers have not seen the name of the world renowned GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE flourished before the people in the above connection, and this dignified reserve has established the popularity of the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE now and forever. It stands on its respectability and merits. These machines make the ELASTIC STITCH and SHUTTLE STITCH, and will be sold on installments of $10 per month. W. I. Shanahan, agent, 71 First street.

Some people may become excited over the terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad on Puget Sound, but it does not disturb Beck & Waldman, corner Front and Washington streets, in the least, as they intend to pursue the usual course to their customers, and that is to sell goods at prices which will enable them with limited means to provide themselves with good clothing at a very small outlay of money. Parents should bring their children to this house for neat fitting suits.

At this season of the year cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels, dysentery, diarrhœa, &c., are quite common, and should be checked at once. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is the best article that is used for these diseases, and should be kept in every family. Used internally.

IF YOU HAVE a cough or cold you are carrying with you the seeds of consumption. It should be cured at once. Thousands have already saved themselves with WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which has cured the disease in every stage.

RELIEF FOR PORTLAND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The discussion about receiving or not receiving aid from abroad, excites a little feeling and a little surprise. Portland responds promptly to supply immediate wants. The Committee on Inquiry, Investigation and Disbursement had found need of less than $1,000 yesterday. Thorough examination will no doubt level up the need of several thousands of dollars. Meanwhile the desire and aim of every good citizen is to enable the sufferers to help themselves and their families. The Chicago Relief Committee not only supplied food, clothing and shelter for a time, but furnished tools to the mechanic who had lost his kit, and gave work or found it for the industrious, secured contracts for builders or shops of some sort for workmen, and in various ways, as the cases appeared, did what seemed wisest. Their fund of several hundred thousands, beside Portland's thousands, went into their treasury, and Oregon's noble gifts, we believe, were with millions from others well and wisely used by that Committee. We believe the two Committees chosen to supervise, receive and disburse funds in Portland will use their best wisdom for the benefit of receivers and the wish of donors. They are trustworthy men. It seems that two or three ladies should be added to their number to make their labors more fitting. The Mayor has declined no proffer of aid from other persons or cities, and the Committee stand ready to receive and apply it as it is needed. Harmony in this relief work will benefit all. If Portland can do the most of it, our city will win public confidence and draw capital for investment.

COM.

HULSE'S TREATMENT FOR A RATTLESNAKE BITE—TWO QUARTS OF WHISKY IN TWENTY MINUTES.—The other day Joseph Hulse, a wood chopper of Cornwall, N. Y., was bitten by a rattlesnake. While on Storm King mountain, five miles up, he encountered a serpent, and wanting one for a friend who had rheumatism—the belief of many thereabouts being that snake grease is a cure for it—he chased the snake, which took refuge in a wood pile, and Hulse seized him by the back of the neck, but so far from the head that it contrived to turn and plant one of its fangs in the index finger of his right hand. Hulse held fast to his snake nevertheless, stamped his head off, and then spent half an hour looking for white ash leaves, which are believed to be antidote for poison. He found none to suit him, however, and started for Cornwall. He was bitten at 7, and it was 11 o'clock when he reached the village and Dr Beattie was summoned. At this time the arm and finger were very much swollen and very gangrenous, the action of the heart almost ceased, and the man seemed like one in a state of intoxication. Dr Beattie hastily cut the finger open and administered two quarts of whisky in twenty minutes. Laudanum and quinine were also given in large quantities, and notwithstanding the loss of three and a half pints of blood from the finger, the pulse increased, and Hulse became perfectly conscious. He is after eleven days in apparently good health, with excellent appetite, but as black as an African in New York. The black is occasionally streaked with blue, purple and green, which appear and disappear alternately.

CAMERON'S CORN.—Hon. Simon Cameron, when Secretary of War in President Lincoln's Cabinet, made a vow to plant corn in the streets of Charleston, where the rebellion started. At least a reporter of a Philadelphia journal is authority for the statement, and the fulfillment of the promise the Lancaster (Penn.) Examiner gives in Mr Cameron's own words: "I did not forget that resolution, and when our troops gained possession of that seditious city I went there, planted the corn with my own hands in one of the streets, engaged a man to attend to it and cultivate it, and to this day I preserve the fruit of that crop in my cabinet at home. I never had any doubts as to the result of the struggle, nor had I any scruples about using every proper means to accomplish that result in the shortest possible time."

Hurgren & Shindler can be found at the office of Atkinson, Woodard & Co, under the Oro Fino Theatre. Will be happy to meet those that are indebted to them. Will resume business in a few days.

Why linger in blissful ignorance? Why do you wander about seeking a place where they keep the largest and finest stock of Summer Clothing? Why pay high prices for goods when the fact has been long established that the great firm of J. KOHN & Co., 21 Front Street, sell Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods so cheap? They keep the best, they sell the cheapest, and what more can be asked?

THE ATMOSPHERE OF LOVE—Is a pure sweet breath. This desideratum is one of the results of using Sozodont, which not only invigorates and preserves the teeth, but renders the mouth as fragrant as a rose.

Great harm and discomfort is caused by the use of purgatives which gripe and rack the system. Parsons' Purgative Pills are free from all impure matter and are mild and health giving in their operation.

Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation containing all the valuable medicinal qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California yard, [illegible] the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER, URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal [illegible] of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful yet harmless febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

A home [illegible] where, in all waiting [illegible]
We too may stand together and alone,
Our patient task-work finished and at last
[illegible] perfect lowliness and peace [illegible]
Some little nest of safety and delight
Guarded by God's angels day and night.

We cannot guess if the [illegible]
In some green spot embowered with arching trees
Where bird notes joined with [illegible]
Shall make us music as we sit at ease,
Or if amid the city's busy din
Is built the nest for which we look and long:
No sound without shall mar the peace within,
The calm of love that time has proved so strong,
[illegible]
Both [illegible] the world's confusing noise.
And if the nest be built in Eden's bowers,
What [illegible] still [illegible]?
We have a home, but [illegible] its happy state
We know not yet. We are content to wait.

ABSENT-MINDED FOLKS AND FREAKS

The vulgar by a queer mistake call a man absent minded when his mind shuts the door, pulls in the latchstring, and is wholly at home. It is a concentration just the opposite of reverie, which makes one oblivious to external circumstances, and therefore eccentric. Often, therefore, we fancy the wits are going a wool gathering, when in fact the oak is sported, and there is hard work going on in the sanctum.

Absent mindedness is the prerogative of genius. Commonplace people can't indulge in it. Let them dare to bring their moderate abilities to a focus, and they are pronounced stupid or daft, and are laughed at or scolded accordingly.

How vivid a picture comes to mind of a young student (he must have been a sophomore, mathematics are so productive of abstraction) starting for a drive with his good grandmother with the horse tied to the post and the breeching down. He had borrowed our horse and carriage and I can still hear my father's hearty laugh as he saw the unpractical youth gently encouraging the animal to proceed. But he did not laugh so hard when the aforesaid aspirant for a diploma came back with the top of the chaise broken by an attempt to drive into a shed which was too low for it. 'Tis only those absurdities which do not affect us that are amusing.

I can never forget the ludicrous appearance of a learned man I once saw walking rapidly up a quiet village street, evidently thinking very hard on some deep subject, and on his head was a brand new beaver wrapped round with white tissue paper. He had been evidently contemplating the purchase of a new head-covering, and had left the store suddenly engrossed with some new idea.

The mists of metaphysics are apt to have a befogging effect on the brain as regards trivial matters. A professor of intellectual philosophy in one of our New England colleges was seldom "at home," even to his own family, and many were the funny things related of him. He once started for recitation on a muddy spring morning with a slipper on one foot and a rubber boot on the other—quite too partial a pro[illegible] for comfort.

Women are not so much given to these vagaries, though I did see a brilliant but eccentric lady walk majestically out of a dry goods store with a yardstick over her head as a parasol.

As on April Fool's Day we sometimes see a man walking solemnly along quite unconscious of the picture or irreverent jest tacked on his coat tail, so in biographies of eminent persons we often find these comical instances of abstraction, which sadly detract from the otherwise [illegible] the dignity and grandeur of the great thinker. Yet, while we laugh, we half admire, if the man has an uncommon supply of brains or book lore. Take as instance Arago [illegible] in digging diagrams in the sand as to lose his life, or Newton using the finger of a lady friend as a tobacco-stopper. We excuse both, but let Sol Smith or Abijah Wilkins repeat either experiment, and you pronounce them foolhardy or impudent. Yes, abstraction is for famous men only and they have availed themselves of the privilege.

Isaac Newton, during the two years which he spent in preparing and developing his immortal work, only lived to calculate and think, preserving no connection with the ordinary affairs of life. It is said, that, frequently, on rising in the morning, he would sit down by his bedside arrested by some new conception, and would remain for hours, together engaged in tracing it out, without dressing himself. If he did get on his clothes before the mood came on, he would ignore the necessity of eating. A waggish friend called one day, and, finding him absorbed in thought, sat down and ate dinner which a servant brought. When Newton came to himself, he arose, lifted the cover, and quietly remarked: "I had forgotten that I had dined." To one who asked by what means he had arrived at his discoveries he replied: "By always thinking unto them." Here was the secret of his success.

Dr. Robert Hamilton, whose powerful essay on the national debt fell like a bomb-shell upon the houses of Parliament, one of the most profound and clearheaded of philosophical thinkers, often lost all perception of external things and almost of his own identity. He pulled off his hat to his own wife in the streets and apologized for not having the pleasure of her acquaintance, went to his classes in the college on dark mornings with one of her white stockings on the one leg and one of his own black ones on the other, often spent the whole time of the recitation in moving from the table the hats of the students, which they as constantly returned. He would run against a cow in the road, turn round, beg her pardon, "Madam," and hope she was not hurt. At other times he would run against posts and chide them for not getting out of his way, and yet his conversation at the same time, if anybody happened to be with him, was perfect logic and perfect music. The fish market is near the Dee, and has a stream passing through it that falls into that river. The fishwoman expose their wares in large baskets. The Doctor one day marched into that place, where his attention was attracted by a curiously-figured stone in a stack of chimneys. He advanced toward it till he was interrupted by one of the benches, from which however he tumbled one of the baskets into the stream. The visage of the woman was instantly in lightning, her voice in thunder. She stamped, gesticulated, scolded, and brought a crowd that filled the place; but the philosopher turned not from his eager gaze and his inward meditations on the stone. While the woman's breath held good, she did not seem to heed; but when that began to fail and the object of her rage moved not a muscle, she seized him by the shoulders, yelling in an effort of despair, "Speak to me, or I'll burst," sank down in a state of complete exhaustion among the remnants of her fish; and, before she had recovered, the Doctor's reverie was over and he had disappeared.

The Rev. Dr. George Harvest was really the man who while playing backgammon swallowed both the dice and threw the wine upon the board. He was on the eve of being married to the bishop's daughter, when, having gone a gudgeon fishing, he forgot the circumstance and overstaid the canonical hour, which so offended the lady that she indignantly broke off the match. If a beggar took off his hat to him in the hopes of receiving alms, he would make him a bow, tell him he was his most humble servant and pass on. This is quite opposite to the conduct of the Count de Brancas, the hero of Bruyere's "Absent Man." On one occasion while walking on the street the Duke de la Rochefoucault crossed to speak to him. "God bless thee, poor man," exclaimed the Count. His friend smiled and was beginning to address him. "Is it not enough," cried the Count, interrupting him—"is it not enough that I have said at first I have nothing for you? Such lazy beggars as you hinder a gentleman from walking the streets."

La Fontaine is recorded to have been one of the most absent of men. He attended the funeral of one of his friends, and sometime after called to visit him. Stopping on a journey he ordered dinner at a hotel and then took a ramble about the town. On his return he entered another hotel, and passing through into the garden took from his pocket a copy of [illegible] in which he quietly set himself to read till his dinner should be ready. He just discovered his mistake in time to pay his bill at his own hotel and proceed dinnerless on his journey.

Hogarth, the illustrious painter, having bought a new carriage, went in it in grand style, to pay a visit to the Lord Mayor. While he was in the mansion it began to rain very hard, but he, coming out, forgot his equipage and walked home, drenched to the skin. One could quote instances of this kind to the extent of a volume, but they are too similar to retain the interest long. There is a very pleasant chat on this subject in No. [illegible] of the Spectator. Sydney Smith gives an irresistible account of Lord Dudley, whom he describes as one of the most absent men he ever met. One day he met me in the street and invited me to meet myself. "Dine with me to-day; dine with me, and I will get Sydney Smith to meet you." I admitted the temptation he held out, but said I was engaged to meet him elsewhere. Another time, [illegible] he turned back [illegible] this brought him [illegible] "I [illegible] walk with him [illegible]. I'll walk with him as far as the end of the [illegible]."

Moore in his diary has frequent mention of Ward. [illegible] somebody who proposed a short walk with him [illegible] in respect [illegible] "I think I may indulge him for ten minutes."

One day that [illegible] dined with Lord Dudley [illegible] to read to himself Hume's History of England!

Lord Avonmore [illegible] was subject to fits of absence which [illegible] him [illegible]. At a professional dinner given by Mr. Burke, Curran, who was sitting next to his Lordship, having been called on for a toast, gave "All our absent friends," patting at the same time Lord Avonmore on the shoulder and telling him he had just drunk his health. Taking the information as sincere, the Avonmore rose and, apologizing for his inattention, returned thanks to the company for the honor they had conferred on him.

And you remember Lamb's hit at Coleridge for his loquacity and abstraction. He averred that, anxious to escape from an interminable monologue, he cut off the button from his coat to which the eloquent rhapsodist was tightly hanging, and so escaped. Returning that way after several hours, he found Coleridge still clutching the button and talking as earnestly as ever.—Kate A. Sanborn, in the Independent.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

FRIDAY EVENING, August 8, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 11⅝.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 85½ buying, 86½ selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 800 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, 11s 9d@12s; Club 12s 2d@12s 4d.

The question of a supply of funds to move the grain crop is one which it was thought would not be an embarrassing one, but recent events have so shaped themselves that some fears are felt lest the demand for capital from other directions should draw off such an amount that would have helped to make up the aggregate for this purpose that some scarcity may be felt which will seriously effect the market. At present this effect is not largely realized, owing to the very quiet state of trade in most all branches and the fact that producers are doing but little in the way of attempting to place their grain on the market, but with the receipt of the new crops of wheat and oats the belief is extensively entertained that the complaint will be pretty generally heard that "money is again scarce." At present remittances from the interior are coming to hand slowly, and some murmuring at the want of promptness, on the part of their customers, is heard from our merchants. In the meantime the city banks are negotiating a few loans at the usual rates, and street speculators are occasionally making some very fair margins—for themselves but ruinous to the borrowers. The regular brokers who are in the market have not yet succeeded in bringing rates up to the standard and are therefore not placing large sums, for though there may be those who would borrow could they see any living margin in investments, they are yet unable to discover it and hence are resting upon their oars until a more favorable tide of affairs sets in. In the present dull state of affairs, the high rates of interest and discount, rents, insurance and freights, farseeing men cannot be convinced that it is the most profitable to engage in mercantile pursuits, and though Oregon merchants as a class have done a fair amount of business during the past season and have come through with some margins, it is more owing to a more conservative system of doing business which they have followed and a more careful husbanding of their resources, than to any permanent activity in commercial affairs.

The coinage operations at the San Francisco Mint were resumed on the 7th July, under the administration of the new coiner, J. T. Babcox. The product of the twenty three working days has been $3,040,000 in Double Eagles and $42,000 in Trade Dollars. Work on the last named was commenced July 28th, since when they have been turned out at the rate of $10,000 per day. But for this interruption the gold coinage for the month would have probably exceeded $4,000,000. As it is, the amount is the largest ever turned out at the Mint. In the corresponding month last year the coinage was $2,220,000 in Double Eagles and $25,000 in Half Eagles.

The Crops.

From all parts of the Willamette Valley, Southern and Eastern Oregon, reports reach us which indicate the realization of even more than was expected in the yield of the Wheat and Oat crops of these sections. In many instances, where only ordinary yields were expected, 35 or 40 bushels of Wheat and 45 or 50 of Oats will be the result, and where the backward season or late rains were thought to have seriously damaged the grain, the crop will be fully average. The few showers that have fallen in the past three or four days have been confined to a small scope of country and have done but a trifling amount of damage. There would now seem but little fear that the crops will be saved in first rate condition. Various estimates are made as to the surplus for export which Oregon will have this season, some placing it as high as 8,000,000 bushels of Wheat while others put it as low as 2,000,000. These estimates are all guess work, and no definite idea of the amount can be formed until the harvest is past, but there will be a much larger surplus than last year, say at least 20 per cent.
